The Future is composable

To MACH or not to MACH...

Education, education, education

Small steps towards the future

A photograph of a DJ performing at a night festival. The DJ, a man with a shaved head wearing a black t-shirt, is seen from the back, pointing his right arm towards a large, dense crowd of people. The crowd is illuminated by stage lights, and many people have their hands raised in the air. In the foreground, there are large black speakers and a metal crowd control barrier. The overall atmosphere is energetic and festive.

Orchestration democratized?

See you in Aarhus!
